Funding Options

There are currently a number of funding options available to Jobseekers looking to return to work through education.

Education Entry Payment.

Centrelink currently provides a one off payment to those who have commenced or are starting training after January 1st 2009. Contact your local Centrelink office to find out if you are eligible for the payment.

Free training for retrenched workers

Retrenched workers aged over 25 years are entitled to a training place for a government-subsidised Vocational Education and Training qualification. PTEP invites jobseekers to look through our training courses and contact us to determine eligibility.

Parents Returning to Earning

Parents planning to return to work after being at home caring for children can apply for a grant. This grant will entitle you to training and related expenses up to the value of $1,000. PTEP provides training opportunities that are ideal for this type of program. We currently have two courses aimed specifically at parents returning to work in two locations, Rosebud and Hastings.

Skills Victoria

If you are a jobseeker under 20 years of age or looking to obtain a higher course qualification than they already have, you may be entitled to a government subsidised training place. Contact us to determine jobseeker eligibility.

Employment Service Providers

Your Employment Service Provider is able to provide you with support for training and other services. If we run a course that is relevant to a job you are looking for, advise your Employment Service Provider.
